Dear Friends,

May God keep you and renew His fire and love in your lives.

Putting up the Tent walls.

Last week I met a very dear sister in the Lord, and she told me these exact words: "Life is going fast, and I realize that what I am doing for the Lord is very little!"

It really broke my heart and as she said it tears were flowing.

Then God spoke to me, telling me that there are many dear Christians who feels the same way. For some reason they just cannot do what is in their hearts.

If you are in the same situation, be encouraged, God knows our hearts. Start with small steps you can take for His glory and He will open more doors. Amen!

Our country as well as all nations really need our prayers. Yes, it's true that many negative things are happening in this world. It is also still tru that the USA is still a #1 Christian stronghold in the world that sends and supports missionaries throughout the world. Don't be deceived by loud, angry groups with a world-view. The are loud because they are unashamed and want to intimidate people who fear God.

Even now some people in government are beginning to support anti-Biblical statutes while others, claiming to know Christ, are preaching everything except the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Sadly, many tele-evangelists, preachers, and churches discount scripture and sell it to a crowd itching to hear a social gospel rather than the truth: we are sinners before a Holy God.

But remember, in the USA there is still a large number of people who loves God with all they hearts and their believe the steadfast truth of God's Word. I believe that with all my heart.

Working to preach the Gospel

God has blessed us with a new tent. This tent is our "fishing net" to be used to catch precious souls for His glory. Thank the Lord!

Days ago I came back from a mission trip to Aguascalientes, Central Mexico. It was such a blessing because this city was our first outreach in Mexico 21 years ago. In nine days I preached 17 times at different events and I left the city feeling like a squeezed lemon but wonderfully blessed.

This coming August 9th, My wife and I will go back to marry a young lady, Lord willing, that we met 21 years ago when she was 6 years old. She is now 27 and has never forgotten. God is good. He knows how to give us spiritual vitamins when we need it.

We are still faithfully visiting prisons, hospitals, and take other opportunities to evangelize to a lost world. The world has a view that creates depression and suicidal thinking. But what a blessing it is to see people change when you share the love of God (along with shampoo, soap, tooth paste etc). God's love makes all the difference!

Thanks for your love and support. Our hope is that God finds us worthy to continue serving Him. We count on Him to motivate you to support us in prayer and giving.

Please know that we love you all and pray for you.

Love and prayers from the mission field,

Renato
