Friends in Christ:

May God bless and keep all of you.

He is good, we all know that. But when you can experience it in your daily walk...that is another story.

We are in the second tent campaign of 2014 and both have been hard. It feels like we have been crossing the desert at Merida.

Discouragement tried to jump on some disciples. It is not easy for those young in the faith to learn how to walk by faith.

We are intensifying prayers and Bible study. These two weapons never fail. We have seen excellent results. Amen.

In a few days we will move to San Andres Riva Palacio, where there are only 5 or 6 Christians. We know it will not be easy but we also know that it is necessary to go. A tent campaign has never been done in this town before. We do not want their blood to be on our hands in the judgement day, no sir.

As in the two previous ones, we will visit house by house, even the priest's one.

It is hard to believe that being in 2014, there are still entire villages intimidated by the local priests. After the desert, we feel like we also went back to the Middle Age. You decide if laugh or cry. Also know that, at no more than 15-30 miles, there are cities, with thousands of Christians, "resting" in the Lord.

Love you all. Please do not forget about us.

Because of God's mercy,

Renato and Wendy
