Brothers & Sisters in Christ:

We all know God is good. Our hearts are joyful and grateful. I pray you are all ok. It is December already, thank God another year is almost gone, and we are still alive, still in good health, still in His service. Yes, we have tons of reasons to be grateful to God and to you all for allowing us to enjoy such blessings and privileges, and we are, indeed, thankful!

My hope is in Jesus.

Thank you for helping to show the love of Jesus to multitudes, under the tent and wherever He sends me. Please continue by our side.

We are glad, knowing that Jesus is about to come! At the same time, we feel sad for the majority of the world population being still so blind, so deceived, and immersed in a sea of hate, greediness, violence, and human foolishness.

Really it is so sad that people live and die for things that will soon disappear. May God have mercy on us all: first, on the rulers of this world and, second, on the blind and deceived multitudes who follow them.

By God's grace and by your prayers and generosity we will continue to bring light in the darkness, hope to the hopeless, Good News to the lost, and help to the needy. Amen. Until my last breath, or until He appears in the clouds, by God's grace he can count on me.

Please have the best Christmas ever, remembering that Jesus is the reason for the season! Have a blessed a safe and a prosperous 2025.
